part of butterworths law in context series this is a description and evaluation of the uk public sector ombudsman system focusing on the parliamentary health service and local government ombudsmen in england it also covers the public sector ombudsmen in scotland wales and northern ireland democratic institutions and practices is the second study carried out under the democratic audit of the uk this volume explores the formal institutions and processes of the liberal democratic state including the executive elections parliament and the civil service contributed papers presented at a colloquium jointly organized by the british council division and indian institute of public administration this study offers an analysis of the historical antecedents and a criticism of the contemporary institution of the ombudsman in nigeria this work should appeal to scholars interested in african studies legal studies and political science of the british colonial administration after gaining independence from british colonial rule the government did not deviate from the established practice of the colonial administration in relation to the protection of the rights of the citizens the only available channel for citizens to challenge arbitrary and capricious action of administrative officials is the ordinary courts of law justice in administrative areas under this arrangement often seems slow and wanting therefore the military government instituted a commission of enquiry to analyze and find ways to improve the situation which recommended the establishment of the institution of the ombudsman enhance the impact of the fcc on grievance resolution the fcc must become autonomous from the civil service structure and provisions must be made to increase the legal powers and jurisdictional competence of the fcc a vigorous publicity campaign must be mounted to keep the public abreast of the functions of the fcc a team of competent aggressive and enterprising personnel must be attracted to the fcc to enhance efficiency and professionalism
